Cost schedule for JANIS

1. Until June 30, 1947 the printing and binding costs of JANIS chapters were carried for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, half by Army and half by Navy. The Army funds were transferred to the Navy account and Mr. J. L. Koppik of the Navy was finance control officer. Mr. James Luggan of Navy Publications was liaison between Government Printing Office and the JISPB. The cost of map printing, preparation and collation of the pouch (Volume 2 of each JANIS) by the Army Map Service was absorbed by that agency as their contribution to the JANIS program. This also applied to the cost of map printing by the Hydrographic Office, Coast and Geodetic Survey, (absorbed by the Navy Department), and by the State Service Office/SPC (absorbed by the Department of State.)
2. Attached are lists showing the responsibility on the final four studies of the JANIS program.
